Fiscal Experts Tell Senate to Expect Little Gain in Revenue

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Fiscal experts told the senate appropriations committee today that it can expect only a little more revenue than was originally estimated in order to achieve a balanced budget for 1970-71.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes estimated the available general revenue would reach $609.7 million. The University of Missouri put the figure at $609 million to $612 million. And the Missouri Public Expenditure survey pegged it at $611.4 million.

The governor based his anticipated revenue on an assumption the state's tax revenue would increase by 7.5 per cent in the next year. The University of Missouri and the expenditure survey figures were based on a growth assumption of 8.7 per cent, although their predicted dollars and cents figures differed slightly.

Dr. Robert W. Patterson, professor of economics at the university, said the M.U. figures included some revenue from accelerated tax collections. Edward Staples, director of the Expenditure Survey, said accelerated collections were excluded from the survey estimates.

Sen. T.D. McNeal, D-St. Louis chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said that with the new revenue studies now available, his committee would start executive sessions tonight in an attempt to trim down House appropriation bills to achieve a balanced budget.

McNeal said that is the committee's first job but it must also present a package that will be "politically feasible" — able to get 18 votes for passage in the Senate and 82 in the House.

He asked the committee to join him in requesting that the governor recommend a fourth distribution of state aid to schools both this year and next so the schools can get at least the $234 million promised for this year and keep the state aid figure at that same level next year.

The committee agreed unanimously to make the request.

Comptroller John C. Vaughn already has asked Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth for an opinion on the legality of a fourth distribution of state aid this month of about $8 million.

McNeal and the survey

He said he is convinced the Legislature next year will be faced with the problem of raising about $650 million in additional revenue.

In its action on major money bills, the House wiped out the $7.9 million balance recommended by the governor and put the state in the red by $4 million to more than $20 million, depending on how the expenditures are figured.

McNeal said he hoped his committee could trim the House bills to leave a balance of about $5 million at the end of June, 1971.

The House set school aid appropriations at the present level of $234 million but failed to transfer that much from general revenue to the school moneys fund. Thus McNeal said, the schools have only a "great, big, fat rubber check as of now."

He recommended an "open ended" state aid appropriation with provision for a fourth distribution next year to bring the amount up to $234 million.

Car Demolished At End of Chase

A two and one-half hour auto chase from St. Marys to Scott County ended at 4:10 a.m. today in Scott County when a man identified as Frank Douglas, 20, Memphis, ran a 1969 Oldsmobile into an embankment in the northern part of the county.

Scott County Deputy Sheriff Jack Stewart said the car was demolished. A state trooper said the only items not damaged on the car were "the back bumper and license plate."

Two passengers in the car, Patsy Coleman, 21, and her two-year-old son, Erick Coleman, both of Memphis, were injured. They are reported in satisfactory condition at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The woman has a possible broken leg. The child received face cuts Douglas was not injured.

The chase began about 2 a.m. when St. Marys police attempted to stop the car on a routine check. The car eluded officers and continued south toward Jackson where police there began pursuit.

A roadblock was set up on the Interstate 55 overpass at Scott City. Douglas left I-55 on the exit ramp just before encountering the roadblock.

Deputy Stewart said the car sped through Scott City and Illinois and proceeded on back roads to a point near Commerce. He said Scott City Policeman Mitchell Spinks and Bill Standley spotted the car. The car was wrecked on a gravel road intersection with route N.

Douglas, who did not resist arrest, was taken to the Scott County jail at Benton on investigation of auto theft. The Oldsmobile was reported stolen Feb. 20 in Memphis.

The chase reached speeds up to 100 miles per hour.

East Prairie Truck Operator Fined $500

A $500 fine, was imposed this morning in magistrate court against John Henderson, East Prairie, who pleaded guilty to improper vehicle registration.

He was accused of having a truck licensed at 12,000 pounds. He pleaded guilty to driving the truck loaded at 47,000 pounds.

Assistant Scott County Prosecuting Attorney James Edgar Moore III told Judge M. E. Montgomery that Douglas was fined five weeks ago on a similar charge in New Madrid county.

The judge imposed a 90-day jail term, which will be suspended upon payment of the fine and court costs.

Jerome Gilmore, 227 Felker, was fined $10 for failure to have driver's license. A 30-day sentence was suspended on payment of the fine and costs.

Three felony charges were dismissed by the state against Maurice Mitchell, Metropolis, Ill., charged with possessing burglary tools and explosives, and Billy Sullivan, Mounds, Ill., charged with possession of explosives.

The charges were dropped as a result of a ruling made last week by the Missouri supreme court saying the items were taken from an automobile with an improper search warrant.

The charges stem from Oct. 18 when George Garner of Sikeston Mitchell and Sullivan were arrested in Sikeston. The supreme court ordered items found in a car returned to Garner, who is now being treated in a federal hospital at Springfield.

Dave Hyde, route two, Sikeston, waived a preliminary hearing this morning on a felonious driving while intoxicated charge. Officers report Hyde has been arrested four times on the same charge. Bond was set at $500 to appear in circuit court May 28.

Louis C. Wilson, Bertrand, also is scheduled to appear in circuit court May 28 on a $500 bond. He is charged with feloniously driving a vehicle belonging Jackie James of near Sikeston.

Judge Montgomery set a preliminary hearing to be heard Wednesday at Benton for Allan Howard and Charles Travier, both of route three, Sikeston, and James Howard, route two, Sikeston. They are charged with felonious theft.

Clyde Thatcher, 117 Second, was fined $10 for careless driving.

Berle Hopper, Morley, was fined $5 for improper vehicle registration. Bill Arthur, Morehouse, was fined $5 on the same charge. Gordon Rodgers, 816 Gulf, was fined $5 on the charge.

Persons fined for failure to have a driver's license were Larry Kennedy, route two, Sikeston, $5 and Elaine Evans, 849 Agnes, $5.

Jerry Keene, East Prairie, was fined $10 for careless driving.

Gerald Taylor, route four, Sikeston, was fined $24 for speeding.

Laura Donoho, 321 Hardin, was fined $10 for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a vehicle.

D. J. Dewitt, route three, Sikeston, was fined $10 for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a vehicle.

No Course Taken in White House Parley on Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler repeated the White House stand against the Cooper-Church formula and for more than an hour today at said, too, that the White House has not endorsed any alternative amendments. But he did not off appropriations for American operations in Cambodia. They proposed.

The White House meeting brought out 17 people—six senators, nine House members, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird. The two Cabinet members briefed the Capitol Hill contingent, Ziegler reported.

Laird told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Monday that that small numbers of U.S. troops have made brief sorties into Laos and might repeat them. But he said there would be no large-scale American military operations there.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told reporters at the Capitol that in his view, Laotian incursions violate "at least the spirit" of a congressional ban against spending to put ground combat troops into either Laos or Thailand.

Mansfield said he does not know what Congress will do about it.

"Give us a little time," he said. "We just found out about this."

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said meanwhile Nixon's decision to enter Cambodia was "the latest example of presidential usurpation of congressional war powers which has been going on for at least 20 years."

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops stepped up their attacks across South Vietnam sharply today in a new "highpoint" of activity apparently marking the 80th anniversary of the birth of Ho Chi Minh.

The Communist command's troops also threatened another Cambodian provincial capital in their efforts to keep open their supply lines through northern Laos.

The 35,000 American and South Vietnamese troops on the move against enemy base camps inside Cambodia reported only scattered action. But inside South Vietnam the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong shelled 61 allied positions, the heaviest attacks in 12 days.

In the northeastern part of the Mekong Delta, Viet Cong troops overran a government outpost and then slashed into a relief force that moved in. No further information was immediately available.

Campus Disorders Continue to Subside

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eighteen days after President Nixon sent American combat troops into Cambodia, student protest strikes were under way at a reported 26 colleges. However, the disorders and scattered violence which characterized the first two weeks of protest have subsided.

On many of the nation's other campuses students were quietly organizing for political action aimed at forcing a rapid end to American military operations in Indochina.

The student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., said student strikes were continuing on 26 campuses. About 150 of these schools are among the nation's 1,500 four-year colleges and universities. The others include junior colleges and specialized institutions of higher education.

About a dozen schools remained officially closed for the remainder of the school year.

Some 5,000 students at the University of California at Los Angeles blended their cries of "Peace! Peace!" with the throbbing music of Handel's "Messiah," during an offbeat "Music for Peace" antiwar demonstration.

Many of the students made the "V" peace sign with their fingers as the overflow audience sat on UCLA's main quad to hear the 360-voice, 120-piece university orchestra and choir perform excerpts from the oratorio.

At the University of Connecticut in Storrs, a student strike steering committee announced plans for a national coordinating center for political opposition to a House-passed bill dealing with defense facilities and the Industrial Security Act.

David Howe, a spokesman for the group, said the bill would allow the federal government to involve itself in campus unrest as long as the college concerned holds a defense contract.

Students at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville wound up a two-day seminar seeking to mobilize support of congressional leaders and peace candidates Florida Memorial College against the war. About 100 students from 15 Virginia schools were demanding administrative changes. There were 26 arrests.

Many of the student strikes and demonstrations focused on the shooting deaths of four whites at Ohio's Kent State University, six blacks in Augusta, Ga., and two blacks at Jackson State University, Miss.

The killings all came during incidents in which law enforcement officials or National Guardsmen used firepower to quell demonstrations or disorders.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said a 100-mile march across Georgia to protest the Augusta deaths and other issues would begin today.

In reaction to the Jackson slayings, several colleges said they officially would close for varying periods of time. The colleges included Knoxville College in Knoxville, Tenn., and the University of Cincinnati.

In Washington, the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam said antiwar demonstrations were planned for Memorial Day, May 30, in at least eight U.S. cities.

Also in the capital, about 100 young persons organized as the "Youth Committee for Peace with Freedom" began lobbying against amendments pending in the Senate that would put restraints on U.S. military operations in Indochina and mandate an American pullout.

The committee called the amendments "a formula for betrayal and capitulation," and described the Cambodian operation as headed for success.

THE JOURNALISM AWARD was presented to Phyllis Lair, who receives a $115 from Allen Blanton, manager of the Daily Standard printing department. The award was made Monday at the honors assembly at the field house.

Population Question Raised

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth has been asked when the new federal census takes effect on those Missouri laws that are governed by population figures.

State Sen. Richard Southern, D-Monroe City, posed the question and suggested several areas in which the new census reports will affect cities and counties. One is the gasoline tax rebate to both cities and counties.

He also asked if a city should decline in population could its annexation of additional land allow it to keep its current position.

Some census figures have been released on a local basis but statewide compilations have not yet been announced.

Summer Conditions to Linger

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Calendar-wise it's still spring, but summer weather's here through Friday, at least, the Weather Bureau said.

Lows for that period were forecast in the 60s, and highs in the upper 80s and lower 90s.

About Friday the bureau expects a period of showers or thunderstorms to set in with a drop of about 10 degrees in both night and daytime temperatures by Saturday.

Lows early today were generally in the 50s with the extremes 50 at West Plains and 67 at St. Louis.

First 2 Bills Go to Governor

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The first two bills of the special session were passed by the Missouri Senate Monday. They now go to the governor who recommended them.

One raises the amount of damages involved in suits before the state Supreme Court from $15,000 to $30,000. Springfield, Kansas City and St. Louis Courts of Appeals would have jurisdiction of suits involving less than $30,000.

About 45 cases a year would be affected, cutting the Supreme Court docket by that much, sponsors said.

The other bill corrects an error to put widows and dependents of St. Louis police officers under a retirement bill passed in 1969.

Both bills passed 28-0 and both become effective 90 days after the special session ends June 14.

Committee hearings will occupy the Senate most of this week while the House is in recess until June 1.

Strikers Lose $51 Million Pay

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Area workers have lost $51.3 million in personal income from the continuing strike, the Regional Industrial Development Corp. said today.

This amount, the RDIC noted, comes near the $55.8 million figure lost during the strike by drivers of Teamsters Local 600 that ended May 7.

About 430 members of Hoisting Engineers Local 513 are off jobs today in a strike that began April 1. The union is striking against sand and gravel producers, ready mix concrete firms and quarries.

A meeting is scheduled today between a federal mediator and union representatives.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE

If you've been one of those concerned with the alarming rise in the drug and narcotics problem, there's a chance that you might be able to do something effective. And although this paper is of the general opinion that there are, at this moment, entirely too many people working for our national government, there are exceptions to every rule--and this is one of them.

The Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, an enforcement arm of the U.S. Department of Justice, is at this moment looking for a sizeable number of recruits to enter special training toward becoming Special Agents.

Bureau Director John E. Ingersoll explained that they want applicants who are at least 21 years of age, in excellent physical condition, with vision of at least 20/40 in both eyes without glasses, and at least 20/20 in one eye and 20/30 in the other eye with glasses. If the applicant is a college graduate, with some training or experience in enforcement, scientific, or business administration fields, so much the better. All must pass the Federal Service Entrance Examination. And (sorry, gals) men only.

The challenge is great. The recruits must first pass a rigorous 12-week training course. After that, the fledgling agents will be assigned to duties in a variety of interesting fields. This may run all the way from "open" contact with the drug industry at all levels from the manufacturer to the retail store; it may involve special training in criminology and law enforcement at the Federal and local level, and it may lead to service as an undercover agent.

The rewards are substantial. The starting salary for those accepted is $8,098 a year, but many young agents make upwards of $10,000 a year with overtime pay. And promotion is available after the first year.

If you are interested, write to BNDD headquarters, 1405 "I" Street, Washington, D.C. This could be your opportunity to serve.

BORROWING

Do you have any friends who borrow things from you?

Somebody suggested that we write about people who borrow things and don't bring them back. It was about this same time that Parson Elbert Owen asked where the book was that he had loaned us--and we're still looking for it.

Of course, we won't mention some of the people who have borrowed from our "lending library" and forgotten to return same.

We did make a small list of other things that have been borrowed in recent years which include a power mower, fifty bucks that has only been partially repaid, a portable typewriter that we finally replaced instead of starting a fight about it, and for awhile it was a camera which finally wandered home.

Our neighbor and we have worked out a good deal on a chemical fertilizer spreader which is a partnership. We've got an agreement. Neither of us can loan the other's part of it, so we both know where the whole spreader is.

As we looked around the office and plant, we found that we had borrowed from several people, but it would be nearly impossible to run a newspaper without borrowing stuff.

The fact is that we're sorry we started out on this talk. We were kind of burned up at some people because they've got some things borrowed that they haven't brought back. We'll tell you what we'll do. We'll bring your stuff back if you'll bring ours back.

Its commercial success triggered the rush of oil capital to Alaska, and marked the beginning of the state's extensive petroleum resource development. Today the area is considered an outstanding example of multiple land use and a showcase of cooperation between the oil industry and federal fish and game authorities.

MITCHELL IN MISSISSIPPI

"The Iron Chancellor" and "Mr. Tough" are favorite nicknames among newsmen for Attorney General John N. Mitchell. The epithets relate to Mitchell's firm control of the Justice Department and his conviction that it is "an institution of law enforcement, not social improvement." He has frequently been accused of being unsympathetic to the methods, if not the aspirations of the civil rights movement. And he was described as "hawkier than the hawks" on President Nixon's Cambodia decision.

Events and Mitchell himself have not helped to burnish his image. He accepted the job reluctantly, commenting that he really preferred to be a "fat and prosperous Wall Street lawyer." The Senate's refusal to accept Supreme Court nominees Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell have reflected on Mitchell, who advises President Nixon on such appointments. Reporter Don Oberdorfer, writing in the Los Angeles Times (April 26, 1970), said a drive against Mitchell is now under way: "Senators are grumbling, pundits are moving to the attack and some of the critics believe they smell blood for the first time."

Under general attack by the civil rights movement, Mitchell is under special fire because of his insistence on delivering an address to the Delta Council in Cleveland, Miss., on Tuesday, May 19. Aaron E. Henry, Mississippi president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has branded the Council "segregationist and racist." A spokesman for Mitchell replies that the Attorney General does not consider the organization to be racially exclusive and intends to deliver his speech on schedule.

Most of Mitchell's critics fear he will infringe on individual rights and civil liberties in the effort to promote law and order. Richard Harris, in his recent book, Justice: The Crisis of Law, Order and Freedom in America, quotes a young Justice Department lawyer as saying: "... he (Mitchell) could stay here for four years and never use the words 'Negro' and 'youth'." Mitchell's rejoinder is "watch what we do instead of what we say." So far, the civil rights movement is pleased with neither.

NEW YORK (AP) - "Living is enjoying what you do," said Perry Como, the latest pilgrim to Las Vegas.

In his first night club appearance since he starred at the Copacabana here in 1944, the singer will open a three-week engagement at the International Hotel in Nevada's gambling capital for a reported $100,000 a week.

That's $99,250 more than he made at the Copacabana 26 years ago--but, of course, money isn't what it used to be. And it isn't just the money that is drawing Como back to a night club floor.

"To me life is fulfillment and acceptance," said Perry. "When you have been doing something for 30 or 35 years, it makes you feel good to find you're still accepted and welcomed at 55."

In some careers, even bricklaying, you get too old. "I like to work before a large live audience. I think it will be fun in Las Vegas. If not, I can always try the tables. If I gambled as much as I want to, I'd probably be the biggest bum in the world."

The greatest gamble Como ever made, however, was in 1933, when he gave up a barbershop in Canonsburg, Pa., and came to Las Vegas. He brought his wife, who became a singer for Tommy Carlone's band at $28 a week.

Over the years the easy-tzi singer won recognition as one of the best-loved performers in show business, a top star in grandchildren.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON - President Nixon has taken pains to hush up the fact that the United States, in the strictest of secrecy, has made bombs available to the Israeli Air Force.

The first hint that the U.S. might be giving secret aid to Israel leaked out of the President's closed-door conference last week with the nation's governors. During his report on the Middle East, he confided guardedly that the U.S. was helping Israel in ways he couldn't talk about.

He didn't mention the bomb shipments or otherwise indicate what secret help the U.S. might be furnishing. However, this column has learned from the most reliable sources that Israel urgently needed bombs and the U.S. agreed to supply some.

In the past, the U.S. has been careful to furnish Israel only weapons that could be justified as defensive. But the Arabs aren't likely to regard bombs as defensive in view of Israeli air raids deep inside Egypt.

The bomb deal received the personal approval of President Nixon, who has been criticized by Jewish leaders in this country for not doing enough for Israel. But top State Department officials, apparently, have been kept in the dark about the bomb shipments.

STATE OPPOSES AID
The State Department has opposed military aid to Israel and has counseled against engaging in an arms race with Russia in the Middle East. Indeed, the Department has suggested that the Soviet military transfusion might even improve the prospects for peace by giving Egypt the strength to negotiate a settlement.

As long as the Arab countries are too weak to withstand the pressure from the Palestinian underground, the reasoning goes, negotiations will get nowhere. The Egyptian, Jordanian and Lebanese governments have all been considered too weak to make peace without risking overthrow by the Palestinian nationalists.

The State Department

doesn't want the U.S. to upset the delicate new power balance by over-reacting to the introduction of Soviet-manned planes and missiles into Egypt. For close to a year, U.S. intelligence has monitored Soviet pilots at the controls of planes with Egyptian markings. But the Soviet involvement has been steadily increasing.

President Nixon, meanwhile, has tended to look upon Israel increasingly as the best bulwark against communist encroachment in the Middle East.

Footnote: The State Department has advised the White House that Egypt's President Nasser, despite his hostile speeches, has remained privately friendly to the U.S. When ex-President Johnson sent Robert Anderson to Cairo to warn Nasser against military involvement with Russia, according to a confidential account of the meeting, Nasser replied:

"Tell President Johnson that the Soviets have not asked for a base. We give bases to no one. They only asked for fresh water supplies... I told them they may have all the water they want, that they can make needed repairs and stay for awhile."

NIXON'S MOOD
President Nixon, after his initial shock over the anti-war frenzy, has returned to his former confident mood. Intimates say he was buoyed by the rousing reception he received from the nation's governors and labor leaders. He is also convinced that the "silent majority" supports his bold move into Cambodia.

As evidence of his renewed assurance, say those around him, he has been seen leaning back in his presidential chair, relaxed, with his feet propped up on a pulled-out drawer. Once, he even lit up a cigar, which is a sure sign of good spirits.

Some intimates are concerned, however, over his failure to fathom the public mood. He is a thorough, calculating student of politics, who tends to measure public reaction by polls, charts and speed at the very time when fatigue reduces his alertness and retards his reflexes. A good number of accidents occur as a result of drivers being fatigued or asleep at the wheel.

Colonel Hockaday then advised motorists to have their vehicles safetychecked. He noted that while Missouri vehicle owners are required to have their vehicles pass inspection once a year, it is still a good idea to have a vehicle's vital safety items checked prior to a trip.

"Prepare yourself and your vehicle for the long Memorial Day weekend ahead," the Colonel concluded. "Travel will be more enjoyable and safer during this period if you do so."

NO LIMIT TAX PLAN!

In a humorous vein, columnist Mike Royko asks, "What'll Uncle Sam do when taxes reach 100 per cent?" His rhetorical question, though facetious, has a hard grain of seriousness considering the spending philosophy that the nation has lived with for several decades. The idea has been that government helps people by raising their taxes. So why shouldn't taxes eventually reach the 100 per cent level? Theoretically, the government could then give away more than ever before, and people would receive the ultimate in help.

The point Mr. Royko makes is that after taxes reach 100 per cent, how does the government then continue to help people after they are flat broke, Mr. Royko quotes hypothetical economists of the future who suggest ways out of the dilemma. These mythical economists believe we could sell off or pawn the Air Force or the Navy at a good price. Another of Mr. Royko's imaginary economists believes our government could help run some other countries -- do a little moonlighting on the side. To the question, "Do you think anybody would hire us?", this economist answered, "Are you kidding? With our experience?" Nothing is too fanciful in a nation that sets no limit on taxation to help people.

KINDERGARTEN ECONOMICS

The word profit, except when applied to our own endeavors, still seems to be a dirty word. The stock criticism of profit never misses a toughing reference to the "...never-ending struggle... against encroachment by private interests seeking profit..." The obvious conclusion we are supposed to draw from this is that there are two kinds of people -- the good people, commonly known as the public, and the bad people, the profit seekers.

This kindergarten view of people and profits contributes a lot to the buck-passing and misunderstanding that accompanies inflation. For example, one of the top labor officials in the country has said that business profits are far out of line. He argues that inflation could be stopped without increasing unemployment if these profits were cut. Apparently, he believes inflation should be controlled by regulating profits -- or maybe eliminating them.

Two things are wrong with such reasoning. The first is that if profits are regulated, wages are next in line. Beyond this is the old truth that profits, jobs and progress are all wrapped up in one package -- the incentive system -- that has made the U.S. the most productive nation ever known. You cannot eliminate profits without eliminating the system.

FIRST IMPRESSION

I was nothing but a green country boy,
When I made my first trip into town;

My neck and my feet hurt me something
Fierce from all that gawking around.

I walked and looked at all the sights,
As long as my strength would allow--

I thought 'twas a good place to make a town, 'Cause
The ground was too hard to plow.

Doctor: Has your husband taken the medicine I prescribed -- a tablet before each meal and a small brandy at bedtime to stimulate his circulation?

Wife: Well, he's about a week behind on the tablets and a month ahead on the brandy.

He drank with curvy Mabel. The pace was fast and furious.

He slid beneath the table-- Not drunk, but merely curious.

No kidding. A bill has been introduced in Congress by Rep. James A. Byrne, D-Pa., which would require cigarette packages to carry the following warning:

"The smoking of cigarettes is a dangerous fire hazard which results in hundreds of deaths and many millions of dollars in damage each year. You are urged never to smoke in bed or when in a drowsy condition and to be absolutely certain that each cigarette, before it is disposed of, is completely extinguished."

H.L. Hunt Says

THE U.N. AND THE RIGHT TO LIFE
In the past the United Nations has issued many documents which called for actions which would seriously violate individual rights. Often this organization has assumed for itself the authority to interfere in every area of life.

A recent example of this is the 151-page report on science and technology which will be presented to the General Assembly in the fall of this year. In this report, Secretary General U. Thant has proposed a United Nations study of euthanasia. U. Thant questioned "whether there is a point beyond which intensive methods to keep incurably ill or very elderly patients alive should no longer be applied."

The right to life is the basis of all other rights, yet this right is under attack on many fronts today. Legalized euthanasia is being proposed. Now apparently the United Nations is going to join in this attack on the right to life on the incurably ill and the elderly.

Although U. Thant has asked only for a "study" of the question, the report clearly indicates what the results of that study are likely to be. For example, it quotes a professor of surgery in Warsaw, Witold Rudowski, who stated that a surgeon is cruel "if he goes on prolonging a life that can never again have purpose or meaning."

The question of euthanasia is a deeply moral question. As such, it is not an appropriate subject for a United Nations "study." The United Nations has no right to interfere in this area. The United States delegation to the U.N. should take the lead in denouncing this proposal. HLH

Ex-wife, Nympho, Being Considered By Ex-Husband As Housekeeper For Hire

Dear Ann Landers: You think you've heard everything? Not quite. Listen to this: I am going to marry a man who has been divorced from his wife for three years. Her problem, nymphomania. She had to drag every man to bed - from the 16-year-old kid who carried her groceries to the vice-president of the Telephone Company. No matter who came to their home to fix something she saw it that he fixed everything.

When Gene divorced her he took custody of their two children (now 8 and 9). He agreed to pay her a modest alimony which he did not have to, but he's a decent guy and wanted to see that she always had food and a roof.

I am a career girl and am not the type to stay home and keep house. Gene has had a succession of housekeepers, one dumber than the next at salaries you wouldn't believe.

Yesterday he asked me what I thought about hiring his ex-wife. She is a good cook and the kids really do love her. At first I thought he had lost his mind, but after he described the advantages, I came to the conclusion that it might not be a bad idea. What do you think? - Aldina

Dear Aldina: I think he HAS lost his mind, and if you agree to this bizarre arrangement, you have lost yours.

Dear Ann Landers: A friend said she read in a wire service story that you gave a speech at Harvard Medical School to the Community Psychologists in which you attacked the Women's Liberation groups. I can't believe it. Please say it isn't so. - Boston

Dear B.: Attack is the wrong word. I was asked to comment on the Women's Liberation movement and I did. This is what I said, and I was quoted accurately: "Women should be paid in accordance with their ability to produce. They should not be discriminated against because they are women. I do feel, however, that some of the screamers and picketers are on shaky ground when they try to bust into everything male and demand that they be accepted. This approach turns a lot of men off and makes them anti-female."

Dear Ann Landers: You may go down in history, not as a human relations authority but as an expert on meat loaf. Here is what happened in New Orleans:

The Crescent City Chapter of Parents Without Partners decided to have a Meat Loaf Contest. The three judges were Mrs. M.K. Weaver, Home

Economist for the Louisiana Power & Light, Mr. Joseph Killian who heads the Cooking School at Delgado University of New Orleans, and Dr. Leon Sagal, Head of the Chemistry Department at the Southern Utilization and Research Laboratories for the U.S. government.

The entrees were labeled with a code letter. No judge knew whose recipe he was sampling. The decision was unanimous. All three judges selected "D" as the best meat loaf in the contest. It was YOURS, Ann Landers. - Pauline Robillard, President of Parents Without Partners, Chapter No. 312

Dear Madame President: I swore I would not print another word about that bloomin' meat loaf, but your letter is irresistible. Furthermore, it has provided me with the perfect opportunity to give credit to the person who gave the recipe to me in the first place. She is my sister, Mrs. David Brodkey of Omaha, Nebraska.

Cerebral Palsy Chairman Named

Scott, Mississippi Counties United Cerebral Palsy Affiliate President, Charles Royal, has announced the appointment of Miss Pauline Poepelmeyer of Sikeston as the Chairman of the organization's 1970 fund raising drive in the city of Sikeston, to be made during the month of May.

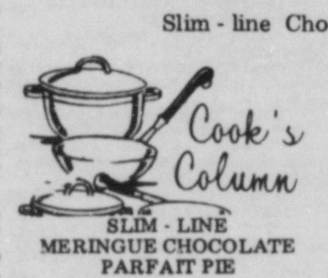

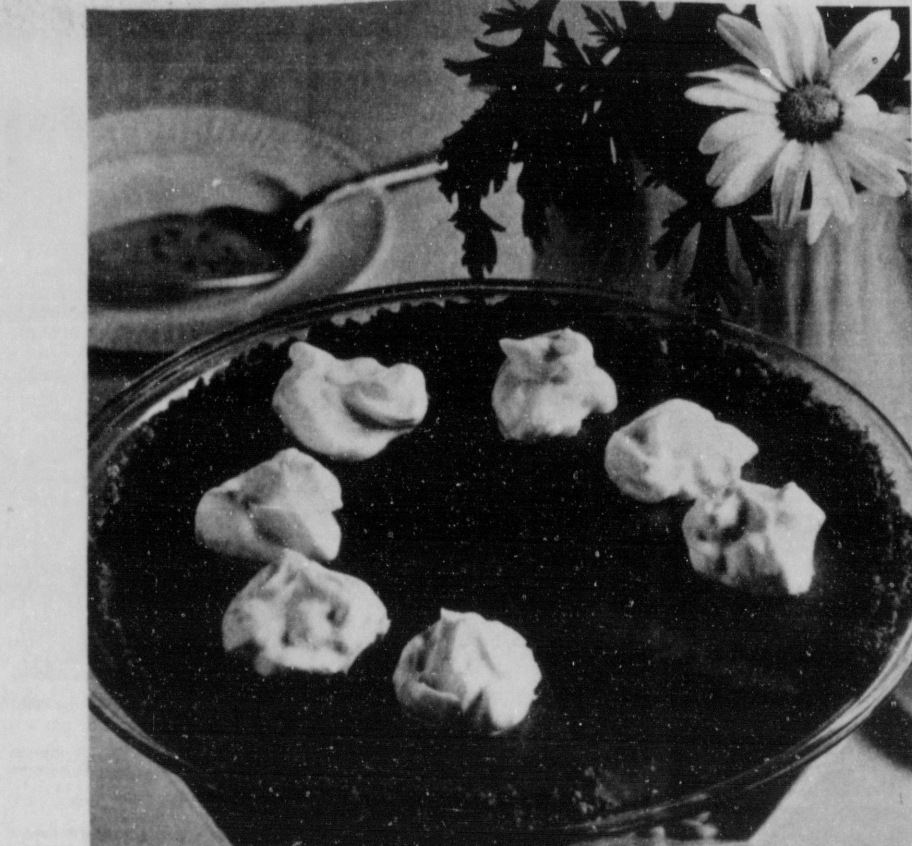

Miss Poepelmeyer was the Sikeston chairman last year and had a very successful drive. She is presently treasurer of the Affiliate and is employed with the Production Credit Association in Sikeston.

With the Sheltered Workshop that is currently being studied and the Affiliate's needed support of this Workshop, more money will be needed this year. There are numerous multi-handicapped children in this area for whom treatment and training is particularly expensive. Miss Poepelmeyer notes, Day care alone, which would include treatment such as physical, occupational, speech and hearing therapy for a youngster, costs about $1,500, a year per child. And this doesn't include any special equipment such as braces, wheelchair or medical services. These extra services are items that the Affiliate tries to supply for the Diagnostic Clinic located in Sikeston. To date, the Affiliate has furnished items including braces costing several hundred dollars for one child, a swimming pool hoist, record players, several walkers.

Cerebral palsy is the result of damage or injury to the brain's muscle control centers which usually occurs before or about the time of birth. One major cause, German measles during the first three months of pregnancy, is on the verge of becoming a medical curiosity. An effective vaccine which has been in use since late 1969 is expected to wipe out this threat to unborn children within three years.

Among other causes are blood type incompatibility, viral diseases, accidents or complications in labor and delivery. The local UCP of the National Audubon Society organization allocates 25 percent of funds raised to a national speaker at the 10 a.m. ceremonies. Luber will receive a juris doctor degree.

How to save about $900 and lose $3,000... right on your own home.

Don't laugh. It could happen. For instance, suppose you decide to sell your house. Yourself. You do. For $15,000.

Great. But how did you arrive at that price? By guesswork. It takes a lot more than that to determine a property's value. It takes a Realtor who knows houses and what they're worth.

He might find yours was worth $3,000 more. A fair price to buyer and seller. Of course, you'd save the Realtor's fee. But at quite a cost.

So when you decide to sell a house, use one of our Realtors. We're pledged to a strict code of ethics.

That's good. Especially if you want to make the best sale you can. Or, for that matter, the best buy.

SHS Golfers Place 10th; Warf Runner-Up Medalist

COLUMBIA — Southeast Missouri's district golf champions, Sikeston high school, finished 10th in the field of 22 teams Monday in the Missouri State high school Activities Association golf tournament.

The district medalist, Jim Warf, shot a 4-over-par 109 in 27 holes and placed second to medalist Ralph Crancer of Lindbergh, who had a 2-over-par 107.

Sikeston shot a 479, 25 strokes off the winners total. Tom Dawson holed a 118, Doug Shaw a 122 and Mike Shaffar 130.

Ladue and St. Louis Lindbergh tied for the state high school golf championship Monday with 27-hole scores of 454, after Ladue blew a 15-stroke lead in the last nine holes.

Ladue had 296 for the first 18 holes and Lindbergh 311. But on the last nine holes Ladue soared 18 over par while Lindbergh was 3 over.

Ralph Crancer of Lindbergh, the medalist, had a chance to win the whole bundle for his school on the last hole. He faced a 6-foot putt-the kind he had been making all day — but this time the ball slid past the hole. Crancer had a fine 2-over-par 36-35-107. St. Louis Parkway Central finished third at 466. Parkway West had 467, Kirkwood 468, Joplin Parkway 469, Jefferson City defending champion 471, Neosho 475, St. Louis Riverview Gardens 477, and Sikeston 479. Twenty-two teams competed.

Cards Shutout; Gibson Beaten

HOUSTON (AP) — Larry Dierker pitched Houston's first shutout of the season Monday night and he struck out St. Louis slugger Richie Allen three times in the process for a 6-0 National League victory.

Dierker now stands 8-2 for the season and is tied with Cincinnati's Jim Merritt as the winningest pitcher in the league. The fast-balling Dierker was asked how he pitched to Allen, one of the most feared hitters in the game. "How did I pitched him?" Dierker repeated the question.

"Fast balls and sliders. You throw Allen sliders and hope they're down and away, and fast balls up and in. Better than in, you'd better get something on it, something hard. When you usually have good stuff, you're gonna get him out. But if you're struggling, he's going to get you, and I don't mean singles either."

Dierker pitched the entire game, as he has done in his last five outings, and held the Cards to four hits. Just one Redbird reached third base and only made it to second.

The Astros scored a run in the first inning, got two more in the fourth and the last three in the sixth.

Their offense included three hits each by Jesus Alou and Marty Martinez. Joe Morgan and Alou each accounted for two runs batted in, and Jim Wynn, who collected his 30th RBI, and Martinez also chipped in with a run-scoring hit.

All the runs came off Bob Gibson of the Cards, who had been bad news for the Astros in earlier games. Dierker had nine strikeouts, six of them in the final three innings.

The victory was the 19th of the season for the Astros, putting them at .500. They've won 12 of their last 17 games.

Houston and St. Louis play again tonight in the Astrodome.

Former Deputy Clerk Indicted on Charge of Embezzling $3,500

MACON, Mo. (AP)—Martha Biondi, a former Macon County deputy magistrate clerk, was bound over to circuit court Tuesday for trial on a charge of embezzling almost $3,500 in court fees.

Mrs. Biondi, who remained free on $2,500 bond, quit her post in February after claiming she had been robbed while working after office hours.

The shortage was confirmed by an audit in mid-April by the State Auditors office.

30 ALLERGIES
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP)—Anthony van Rensburg, 7, may not have all the allergies going, but he has 30 known ones. Doctors say he must avoid eggs, milk, grass, wool, flowers, bristles, moss, cereals, cats, rabbits, dogs and an assortment of high protein foods. He can have fruit and candy, however, and his parents are hopeful that he is growing out of at least a few of his allergies.

Teamster Pact Vote Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union and the Labor Department announced Monday approval by truck drivers of a new national trucking contract that will boost pay $1.10 per hour over 30 months for some 425,000 men.

The union said its members covered by the contract voted approval by a margin of 7-5 Steelhaulers, counted separately, approved the new agreement by a margin of 3-1, the Teamsters said.

The announcement was made by Teamsters Acting President Frank E. Fitzsimmons and Asst. Secretary of Labor William J. Usery. The Labor Department supervised the vote count. The union said more than 71 per cent of the eligible truck drivers cast ballots.

The settlement still left up in the air trucking contracts in Chicago, where negotiations were conducted separately and led to strikes and lockouts. Fitzsimmons had won from the industry negotiating group, Trucking Employers Inc., a stipulation that if any truck company signing the national agreement later grants more to any Teamsters local, the national agreement will be reopened for negotiation of further wage increases.

A few Chicago firms had settled for $1.65 per hour over 30 months, 55 cents more than the national pact.
In addition to the wage hikes over the life of the contract, which is retroactive to last April 1 and extends until July 1, 1972, the agreement includes improved pensions, vacations, holidays, health insurance and cost-of-living pay.

Fitzsimmons said the agreement was worth a total of $5.70 per man over the life of the contract in straight-time wage increases alone.

"The $5.70 figure does not take into consideration a possible 16-cent increase in cost-of-living, should the cost of living index rise as it did over the last agreement. With the possible 16-cent increase, the minimum hourly rate could go as high as $5.20," the union said.

City truck drivers before the new agreement averaged about $4 per hour.

Fitzsimmons said long distance drivers, paid by the mile, will average $5.70 more over the life of the contract in the mileage pay hike of 24 cents.

Fitzsimmons said the agreement was the best national contract ever negotiated with the trucking industry.

"The increases are exactly double what we negotiated three years ago," he said.

First Yard Winners Selected

DEXTER — The first winners in the Dexter Yard Beautification contest for the month of May have been announced this week as follows:

Ward I — Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Keusenkothen, 128, Cottage Lane.

Ward II — Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cates, 310 Boucher;

Ward III — Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crane, 1412 Olive Street.

In each of the yards a sign has been displayed that declares them a yard winner and the sign will remain throughout the entire month.

In Ward One, the Keusenkothen home was selected for the well trimmed grass and shrubs and for an overall picture of a well kept lawn.

Also receiving honorable mentions in Ward One was the yard at the home of Oda Webb, Highway 114 West, mentioned for the neatness of shrubs and grass and the Russell Dodd home 427 N. Catalpa for yard plantings of flowers. In bloom at the time of the judging were Azaleas, Iris and Petunias.

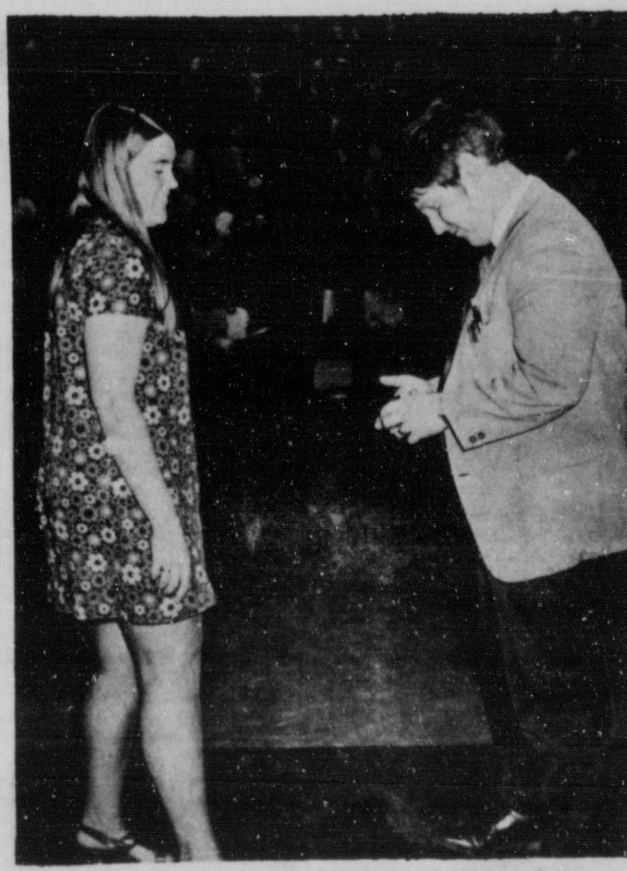

In Ward Two, the Cates yard was selected for the lovely Clematis, roses and petunias and for the overall beauty of well trimmed grass and shrubs.

The runnerup in Ward Two was the yard of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lynch. This is a fairly new yard and at the time Iris, Azaleas and the "stately trees presented a picturesque setting," one of the judges commented.

The Crane yard in Ward Three was the May winner with a featured attraction including a large bed of Iris along the east edge of the yard. The yard in its entirety was "well kept and beautiful," the judges stated.

Also cited in Ward Three was the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Kee, Day Street. Beauty spots of snowball bushes and Weigella were noted as well as the overall effect from flower plantings, the judges concluded.

The contest this year is under the auspices of the Dexter

Missouri House Wants Crack at Namesake Ship

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House gaily adopted a resolution Thursday asking that this namesake state be given first consideration if anything is done about disposing of the battleship Missouri, now in mothballs on the West Coast.

Rep. Walter L. Meyer, D-St. Louis County, offered the resolution. He said the transfer of the nation's biggest battleship was possible on an engineering basis but he wasn't so sure about the cost.

Rep. Thomas D. Graham, D-Jefferson City, remarked that the same proposition was approved Beautification Council and was formerly known as the Green Thumb yard award.

This year the Beautification committee revamped the contest to include three monthly winners, one in each of the three Wards.

Nine judges, three from each Ward, have consented to do the judging for the entire summer. The three residents of Ward One will judge Ward Two yards; Ward Two, will judge Ward Three and Ward Three will judge Ward One.

replica, of St. Louis Mayor A. J. C. has been sold at scrap price.

Meyer said he just didn't want the Mighty Mo, on which the surrender of Japan was signed in Tokyo Bay in 1945, to be turned over to a California bidder, the town of Martinez.

Rep. Dick Dale, D-Richmond, suggested that Meyer as sponsor of the resolution, should be named "Honorary Admiral for the Day."

Results of the poll will be sent to the National Student Association to be tabulated with similar votes taken on campuses across the country.

Civility of London Comes As a Shock to Americans

LONDON — After seven cultural shock. Echoes of the hostility of airport porters—all weeks in America, the first rude examination by U.S. these and many more still ring in reaction to hearing "I beg your customs officials, the gruff one's ears. Philip G. Zimbardo, a Heathrow Airport is one of New York cab drivers, the open Stanford University psychologist, claims that the bad behavior stems from what he calls "deindividuation." An I.B.M. number does not have to be polite. "If no one knows who I am, what difference does it make what I do?" is the logic Zimbardo claims is now prevalent.

Such a feeling of anonymity has not bred open hostility in England. When a pedestrian uses a crosswalk in London, all traffic stops—even though there are no lights. In Washington, D.C., one can be run down when crossing with the green.

Little feeling seems to exist for one's fellow man: a youth hitch-hiking along an American road is viewed as a hippy or a bum, the black man approaching on a dark street is thought of as a potential assailant, the waitress at the hamburger stand is regarded as a food-serving mechanism. And there appears to be a general refusal to help others who may be in trouble.

At the 33rd Street Post Office in New York (the only office open on Sundays in Manhattan) the postal clerk refused to change a $10 bill. "If everybody tried to change their money here on Sunday," he growled, "how far do you think I'd get?"

In Louisville, Ky., a hotel refused to honor a reservation because I had arrived 45 minutes late. After a strong protest, the receptionist was persuaded that to get rid of me he had better find a room in a nearby hotel. There was no attempt at an apology. The porter who carried my luggage back to the front door received a fifty-cent tip (no thanks) and the taxi driver who took me around the block was tipped forty cents (again no thanks).

What this visitor would call politeness, one waiter at Chicago's O'Hare Airport would obviously regard as servility. When it was pointed out that the steak ordered medium was overdone, the unexpected reply was: "If you don't like the food here, why don't you go back where you came from?"

Admittedly, rudeness has become an international problem. In world capitals such as Tokyo, people actually tackle one another for a subway seat. In Paris it seems that some taxi drivers would rather collide than give any one else the right of way. Bad manners have become the rule rather than the exception.

Rudeness in Moscow is supposed to be "Nekulturni" (or uncultured). And it is regarded as the height of bad manners to enter a restaurant without checking your overcoat. But to knock someone over while making your way through the ranks at an ice-hockey match is considered fair play. As elsewhere, people in large groups behave with appalling recklessness.

According to a story in the New York Times, belligerence and offensive behavior are now regarded by more and more people as a sign of power and superiority. Getting up in a bus for an old man or a pregnant woman is regarded by some young people as a sign of hypocrisy in a society where each individual is essentially on his own. Until a new form of inter-relationship develops in which every human is viewed as a being worthy of respect and consideration, the bull market in boorish behavior will remain at a peak.

Speech and Hearing Clinics Open in June

ST LOUIS—Easter Seal summer speech and hearing clinics will reopen for the fourth consecutive year June 8 for eight weeks in more than 50 counties in the state, according to Roy A. Davidson, executive director of the Missouri Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Many clinics will be a cooperative program of the Missouri Easter Seal Society and the Office of Maternal and Child Health, Missouri division of health. Where this occurs, the Easter Seal organization will be responsible for therapy for school-age children and adults, and the division of health will provide therapy for pre-school youngsters.

Several county health and welfare departments are sharing in the operation of the clinics by lending their facilities and personnel.

The clinics have demonstrated a need for speech and hearing services in communities where none were available and have been the force behind the introduction of speech and hearing programs in public and parochial schools. In addition, children involved in school therapy programs can continue with their therapy at the clinics during the vacation months without detrimental interruption.

Almost two million children in the United States have speech and hearing difficulties. The pressures of society, parent neglect and abnormalities of birth have created the stutterer, the aphasic, the deaf and hard of hearing, and the victims of cerebral palsy, cleft palate, articulatory and delayed speech problems.

Davidson said that approximately 1,800 children and adults will have received therapy by the time the clinics close on July 31.

For information about the clinics, write the Missouri Easter Seal Society, 1530 Big Bend Blvd., St. Louis Mo. 63117.

Armed Forces

EAST PRAIRIE — Forest J. Nichols, first lieutenant infantry, United States army, was awarded the silver star, air medal and army commendation medal in recent ceremonies, for gallantry in action.

The department of the army, under direction of the President, stated that Nichols "hard earned the Silver Star for gallantry in action while engaged in military operations involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam. He distinguished himself by exceptional valorous action on February 23, 1969 while serving as platoon leader with Company C, 2d Battalion (Airmobile), 8th Cavalry, during a ground reconnaissance in Thy Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam. Nichols was in command of the lead element when the enemy opened up with a fierce cross fire wounding the first six men in the point element. With complete disregard for his own personal safety, Nichols moved forward to make an estimate of the situation and observed the enemy in well entrenched positions that would prohibit a successful assault. While moving to pick up the point man, he was confronted by an enemy soldier trying to capture the wounded man and his equipment. Nichols maneuvered toward the wounded point man, engaged and killed the enemy soldier, then began moving the injured man back to the company positions. As the fire increased, Nichols sustained a wound himself; however, he retrieved the wounded man and continued until he was reached by his men who aided him back to the perimeter. First Lieutenant Nichols' gallant action is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army."

$25 Fine Imposed on Driving Charge

K. J. Whittington and Jean Whittington, each paid $20 fines on peace disturbance charges. Junior Aydelott, also charged with peace disturbance, was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

John Walker, arrested for interfering with an officer, paid a $25 fine.

Public intoxication charges brought $20 fines to Vermont Lynch, R.D. Bryant, and Clarence Figley. Fines of $25 were assessed Georgia Groves, Russell Baker and Robert Aters, also charged with public intoxication.

George Miller, Wyle Dorris and Wellene Garner, each paid $7 fines for allowing dog to run loose.

Twenty-four full servings of Pepsi. That's what the Gallon O' Pepsi delivers. Four thirty-two-ounce bottles of Pepsi-Cola that can satisfy twenty-four thirsts. And One-Way bottles mean no deposit—no return. Gallon O' Pepsi. It's got a lot to give. You've got a lot to live. Pepsi's got a lot to give.

READY FOR TROUBLE, Tokyo riot police are dressed and equipped for just about anything. The force used tear gas to disperse student demonstrators in several violent clashes recently. Demonstrators are protesting proposed legislation to strengthen the Japanese government's power to put down student violence at colleges.

ARMY CAN DO! — An Army CH-47C CHINOOK helicopter lifts a Canadian Defense Force CF-5D interceptor back to its base. The CF-5D had a flameout landing in a frozen slough 20 miles east of Cold Lake Canadian Forces Base. U. S. Army personnel who were in Canada testing the CHINOOK in cold weather conditions assisted the Canadian government by lifting the fighter back to base. The CHINOOK, manufactured by Boeing Company, Vertol Division, can lift more than 24,000 pounds.

Changes are coming in the political map of the mid-Pacific. Two island groups long under British rule, Fiji and Tonga, are preparing for independence. Fiji, with a population of 400,000, expects to become a self-governing dominion by 1971. Tonga, with 72,000 people, is pushing for independence within the Commonwealth this year after 70 years as a protectorate. U.S.-administered islands to the north, known as Micronesia, also are agitating for a change. Some islanders, charging neglect since the United States took over from Japan under a U.N. trusteeship after World War II, are demanding more self-government and economic assistance.

UP AND OVER goes a polo-vaulting matador who dispensed with swords in fighting the bull in Madrid. The novel-but-daring stunt by Antonio Porras received loud applause from fans.

Committee Approves Newspaper Exemption

WASHINGTON AP — The House Antitrust subcommittee Tuesday approved a bill that would exempt joint newspaper operating arrangements from the antitrust laws.

The subcommittee action, taken by voice vote, is designed to protect 22 joint operating arrangements now in force.

Amendments added by the subcommittee would make it more difficult for new arrangements to be entered. The bill is expected to encounter some opposition in the full Judiciary Committee, but final approval is likely. A similar bill has already passed the Senate.

State Not Obligated To Pay Election Costs

JEFFERSON CITY AP — Missouri is not obligated to pay any part of the election costs last April 7 at which the state income tax revision was defeated if any other issue was considered at the same time.

In issuing that opinion, Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth said today the state has no cost if county, city or district issues were at stake in the same precinct.

"We caution," he said in the opinion, "that this conclusion applies only to those polling places where a political subdivision of the state submits a question to the electorate on the same day..."

K.C. Considered For Air Cushion Train System

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas City is one of the sites being considered for construction of a high speed track - air cushion train system for local transportation within the next six to eight months, John A. Volpe, secretary of transportation, said Thursday.

Volpe said factors being studied include speed, right of way available, local participation in financing, and desire of the community for such a system.

Kansas City has been seeking means of fast transportation to the new airport 15 miles northwest of downtown Kansas City. At present, Interstate 29 is the only link, and there is no public transportation to the site. An abandoned interurban right of way extends much of the distance from downtown to the airport.

Volpe predicted that track-air cushion trains capable of 166 to 170 miles an hour will be developed for local transportation, and he said cross-country trains are being designed for 300 miles an hour.

The secretary made his remarks at a news conference while inspecting the Santa Fe Railway's new automatic classification yards in Kansas City.

Praising Santa Fe's progress, Volpe said, "if other railroads are to pull themselves into the 20th century they will have to take similar steps."

Octopus' Venom

The octopus, preying on shellfish, drills a hole with a toothy, tongue-like device and injects a deadly venom. Combined with digestive juices, this venom breaks up the fleshy tissues of the shellfish so that it can be sucked into the small mouth of the octopus.

PROVOKING PROSE If Every One

If every one who drives a car Could lie a month in bed With broken bones and stitched-up Wounds, or fractures of the head, And there endure the agonies that Many people do, They'd never preach safety any More to me or you.

If every one could stand beside The bed of some close friend And hear the doctor say "No hope" Before the fatal end, And see him there unconscious, Never knowing what took place, The laws and rules of traffic I am Sure we'd soon embrace.

If every one could meet the wife And children left behind And step into the darkened home Where once the sunlight shined, And look upon "The Vacant Chair" Where Daddy used to sit, I'm sure each reckless driver would Be forced to think a bit.

If every one who takes the wheel Would say a little prayer And keep in mind those in the car Depending upon his care, And make a vow and pledge himself to never take a chance, The greatest crusade for safety Then would suddenly advance.
